

Fitful vs. Fitting

When things
don't fit,
some get
fitful;
but that is not fitting.

It is fitting
to show your
smarts
by not operating in fits and
starts.

Fitful is jerky
and discordant;
fitting is smooth
and harmonious.
Fitful is unpredictable
and unreliable;
fitting is credible
and dependable.

You complicate problems
by having a fit;
you expedite solutions
by making things fit.
You exacerbate failure
by throwing a fit;
you facilitate success
by showing how things fit.

The fitful
generate a
fistful
of ill-fitting situations.

The fitful
are not fit to be faithful;
they are prone to be
fretful
and fit to be tied.

The fitful--
in any outfit--
are always a bad fit.

So,
being fitful
is not the path
to fitness,
and is, therefore,
not very fitting.
