

Hollowness vs. Holiness

We hallow
the name of God
by avoiding
the hollow
and pursuing the holy.

Hollowness
is our accomplishment.

Holiness
is God's gift.

Seeking sensory satisfaction
leads to
hollowness.
Striving for spiritual fulfillment
is the path to
holiness.

Discipline and self-giving are the bane of
hollowness,
but the boon of
holiness.

Sacrifice and self-giving are eschewed by
hollowness,
but pursued by
holiness.

Self-centeredness
is the way to hollowness.

Generous openness
is the sign of
holiness.

We are harried
by the hollow,
but happy
with the holy.

Wholeness
is a step up from
hollowness,
but still far below
holiness.

Msgr. Walter Niebrzydowski
November 15, 1998
Fr-Walter@nyc.rr.com
www.fatherwaltersparish.org

Hollowness vs. Holiness