

Latitude vs. Attitude

For the pleasure of
plenitude
eliminate your attitude
and increase your latitude.

Latitude is broad
and expansive;
attitude is narrow
and restrictive.
Latitude welcomes
and includes;
attitude shoves away
and excludes.
Latitude is patient
and persevering;
attitude is capricious
and domineering.

Latitude joins with
amity;
attitude's ally is
animosity.
Latitude is marked by
generosity;
attitude is stained by
parsimony.

When attitude drops a bomb,
latitude defuses it.
If attitude hurls a missile,
latitude deflects it.
Where attitude gives hurt,
latitude heals it.

Attitude serves
the self;
latitude accepts
the other.

Latitude is magnanimous
and adventurous;
attitude is pusillanimous
and timorous.

Latitude understands
finitude
and evokes
gratitude.
Attitude eschews
amplitude
and should fall into desuetude!

Have you noticed
how people feel warm
within your latitude,
but are alienated
by your attitude?
